

A stylized map of the town of Bressana Bottarone. The map is divided into three main sections: a top section showing a brown, hilly landscape with a small building and a path; a middle section showing a long, orange-colored wall or fortification with several towers and a central gate; and a bottom section showing a detailed view of the town's layout, including buildings, streets, and green spaces. The town's coat of arms is located in the bottom right corner, featuring a shield with a blue field, a red cross, and a green wreath.
